Subject: Boulder Economic Analysis

Jon,

I wanted to give you an update on EPA's economic analysis for the City of Boulder. EPA's preliminary economic analysis indicates that the City of Boulder may be eligible to receive an individual variance based on a demonstration of economic hardship. EPA encourages the state to pursue this option and plans to share the economic analysis with MDEQ by next week. This information may be used by MDEQ as a justification for an individual variance.

Feel free to call if you have any questions.

Tina
